Dear Mary Pope Osborne,

I enjoy your books a lot because Jack and Annie have to figure out a lot of mysteries to help Morgan Le Fey and some of your books have stuff in them that actually happened. For example Earth Quake in early morning.

All your books make me think how can I help someone today. When I wake up in the morning I want to help some one and your books make me feel like I could just say word for word the whole book with out looking at the words.

I think you're a great author because you inspire me to do better in school and try harder because one day I would like to be a author as good as you.

I would like to meet you some day and see if you are like me. I know more kids than me write to you and like your books.

Your number 1 fan,
Carli Quandahl
