Dear Hal Leonerd,

Your book Ice Princess has taught me many important ice-skating lessons. It has taught me just how important it is to practice and how much hard work and determination you must have if you want to be a great ice skater. Your story also taught me that age never matters. Anybody can do anything if they put their mind to it.

My favorite character in your story is Casey because she is an ice skater just like me. I love to skate almost as much as she does but I wish I would work as hard as her. I hope I can follow my dreams and become a professional skater just like Casey. I know I have to work as hard as she did in order for that to happen.

Your story makes me remember how frustrating ice-skating can be. Sometimes when I can't do something correctly I want to quit, but something inside of me will not let me do that. Casey has that same drive as I do, I just wish I could relax like her.

Thanks for informing your readers of Casey's story. I hope it makes me other people realize that if Casey can be a professional skater, anything is possible. I know it made me realize that. Your story makes me want to work extra hard to become a professional skater. I hope I can do it!

Sincerely,

Danielle-Snowden-Jacoby
